To Whom It May Concern:

The TEACCH® Autism Program at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill School of Medicine is the sole provider of official TEACCH training programs, including our five-day hands-on classroom training. The TEACCH name is protected by trademark.

There are a limited number of individuals in the world that have qualified to be TEACCH Advanced Consultants (less than 50) that are not current employees of TEACCH. They are allowed to conduct lectures and one to two-day workshops on TEACCH content and methodology, but they are not allowed to lead or direct a five-day training, nor are they allowed to provide workshops for the purpose of TEACCH certification. TEACCH conducted trainings are the only trainings that qualify for certification purposes.

Should you have any questions, please feel free to email me at kathleen_hearsey@med.unc.edu
