

What are Curfews?

A curfew is a rule that tells people what time of night they need to be inside their home.

Curfews can be given by parents, the police, or the government. Usually curfews are set to help people be safe. When curfews are set by the police or the government, then it is a law that must be followed.

Right now, we want to keep everyone safe, so a curfew was set. In my city, I have a curfew that starts at _____ and lasts until _____.

This means I need to be home before _____ every night.

If I need to work, I can talk to my supervisor about needing to make sure I am off work by _____ so that I have time to get home before the curfew starts.

I should not be out after the curfew. I could get hurt or get in trouble with the law if I stayed out past curfew. It is safest to be home before dark.
